

Strategies for developing children's communication

Think about matching
the language you use to the language level of the child – try not to use vocabulary or
sentence structures
that are far more
complex than the ones
that they are using.